Protecting Your Investment

The insurance team at Mid-Continent Aircraft Corporation is the embodiment of the word team. Combined for over 95 years of aviation insurance experience, our four producers and a customer service representative are ready and able to go above and beyond what is required—no matter the challenge—to ensure our clients receive the seamless, quality service they deserve.

Because Mid-Continent is a leader on multiple fronts of the aviation industry—as a certified maintenance facility, seller of aircraft parts, GPS, and aircraft sales—our insurance staff has the added advantage of drawing on those strengths to offer insights that transcend insurance, a valuable feature of our service that few agencies across the country can rival.

Located in the Missouri Bootheel, our agency lies within the heart of the Mid-South agricultural community. Our close proximity to farmers and operators who tend and harvest fields within a glancing distance allows us to keep our finger directly on the pulse of an industry which is critical to the collective well-being of our country.

Although aerial application insurance is a major component of our agency's business, our insurance department boasts specialized expertise in other areas of aviation-related insurance, from general aviation, charter, and flight clubs, to workers' compensation, airport, and property policies.

Whether you are a new aircraft owner or a tried and true operator, we are eager to serve you. Please reach out to us toll free at 800-325-0885 or by email acinsurance@midcont.com.
